FEARFUL

Railway Accident

AT KAHULUI.

Three Lives Lost.

Several Persons Seriously Injured.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

Accident to Dr. Bailey's Boy.

Wailuku Mill Broken Down.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A terrible railway accident happened at Wailuku on Thursday, 14th inst., and unfortunately with fatal results.

Two trains left Kahului, one ten minutes before the other. When the first one arrived at Wailuku, by some misadventure, seven cars were uncoupled.

In the hindmost car were seated Mrs. Brown, wife of Captain Hobron's manager at Kahului, with her three children, one of whom was a baby. There were also in the cars, Mrs. Platte, wife of the manager of the Kahului store at Spreckelsville with her three children; also Mrs. Parker, wife of the engineer on the trains with her baby in arms.

The seven cars being detached ran down the steep incline from Wailuku, meeting the up train on the same track, about three quarters of a mile from the Wailuku depot.

Mrs. Brown and two children were killed instantaneously, her boy having the top of his head cut clean off. The baby still lives and has been taken charge of by Dr. Enders who has not rested a minute since the accident.

Mrs. Platte is most seriously hurt, and grave doubts are entertained as to her recovery. All the sufferers have internal injuries in addition to their other wounds.

Mrs. Parker's head is completely laid open; one of her son's has his arm broken, and two others their legs broken besides internal injuries.

Mrs. Parker had the presence of mind to jump off the cars, with her child.

The cars were all smashed to pieces and the engine of the up train was knocked off the line.

The funerals took place yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m.

VERDICT OF THE JURY.

An inquest was held at Wailuku, island of Maui, on 14th and 15th February, 1884, before Thomas Everett one of the coroners of the island, of Maui upon the bodies of Adele W. Brown, Mildred Brown and Russell H. Brown, then lying dead.

By the oaths of the persons whose names are hereunto transcribed, who being sworn to enquire when, how and by what means the said persons came to their death, upon their oaths do say:

That they came to their death by a collision of two trains of cars in the W. K. and H. railroad in the district of Wailuku on Thursday the 18th February, 1884, between the hours of 1 and 2 p. m.

Such collision was to our best knowledge, and by the evidence presented, caused by the officiousness of one Palea Mahi (k) in uncoupling the cars without orders, and also by the brakes in the said cars not being in proper order.

Signed: THOS. EVERETT, H. TAYLOR, W. H. HARRISON, T. LUCAS, W. H. CORNWELL, E. P. SHELDON, J. N. HARRY.

Accident to Dr. Bailey's Boy.

A small boy belonging to Dr. Bailey of Wailuku was sent out to bring in a horse at 11 o'clock on 14th Inst. As he had not returned at 3 p. m. fears were entertained that he had met with a mishap. One of the Mounted Police was despatched in search and, in about half an hour, the boy was brought back in front of his saddle, perfectly unconscious. He had been thrown from his horse and dragged for some distance.

By last accounts the boy, who is a German, was progressing satisfactorily.

Wailuku Mill Broken Down

For the second time within a month the Wailuku Mill has broken down, and, this time so badly, that it will necessitate new machinery, and from a month to six weeks must elapse before the repairs can be effected. The cane that was cut has been taken to the Waikapu Mill to be ground.

LEPROSY IN THE SCHOOLS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The article in the Advertiser of 15th Inst., entirely dodges the charges contained in my letter which appeared in the previous day's BULLETIN, which is corroborated, in all essential respects by Dr. Trousseau's letter in your subsequent issue. Despite the efforts at parrying displayed by the Advertiser it has failed to dispose of my charge that the President of the Board of Health had written notice, more than three weeks since, of the desire of the Fort Street teachers for an immediate and searching examination of their pupils among whom there were and are suspected lepers—all statements to the contrary notwithstanding.

Therefore this great glaring fact still faces the community, viz. that nearly if not quite, a month has elapsed since W. M. Gibson had notice of the situation at the Fort Street School, and that he has done absolutely nothing to remove the menace or allay the alarm. On the other hand there have been in daily attendance at that school certain pupils strongly suspected of being lepers, who have been permitted to consort with pure and healthy children in the intimate manner peculiar to school children, without official action from the Board of Health. The parents of those children will of course extract what comfort they can from these facts.

It would be interesting to know how long it takes the Board to get its cumbersome machinery in motion. If three weeks have been thus allowed to pass in masterly inactivity, what guarantee have we that the like delinquency may not continue three months? And who may gauge the result of such official neglect?

But if an investigation of all the schools should prove the suspicions of the teachers unfounded, it would be an unspeakable relief to the community and restore, in some degree, public confidence in the Board of Health. It is a crime, deep and damnable, in the Board, to permit a city school to exist a day with the suspicion hovering over it that it harbors lepers among its attendants.

In closing, I wish to disclaim any feeling of personal hostility in this matter, and to say that my information was gained from and through those who, like myself, are on terms of cordiality with Mr. Gibson. Yours truly, CLARENCE W. ASHFORD.

P. S.—Since writing the above I have read the somewhat remarkable effusion in your to-day's issue, signed by Dr. Parker, in which that able author refers to Dr. Trousseau's letter for proof that my charge of official delinquency in the Board of Health is "wholly untrue." I am quite willing that its truth or otherwise should be judged by the standard he names.

There is a deal too much quibbling on the part of both Mr. Gibson and his said satellite as to what constitutes a refusal, by Mr. Gibson, of compliance of Dr. Trousseau's demand, that all pupils found to be afflicted with leprosy should be removed, (whether from the school only or to Kakaako is of slight practical importance). The fact remains that Mr. Gibson did not comply therewith, and no court of law or of public opinion, would construe said conduct as other than a refusal of compliance.

The more or less learned doctor then rushes away to Madagascar for ammunition with which to complete my paralysis, but before his arrival there, evidently forgets his mission, and branches off into a pleasant little anecdote, to show that he enjoyed a professional practice in that climate, and further indulges in some innocent generalities upon philanthropy and abstract justice. But as an argument in favor of the Gibsonian control (?) of leprosy it is worse than a failure. He reminds us that "we should never forget that by confining a number of persons or animals in any place, of whom some have a transmissible disease, while the rest are healthy, the healthy may become diseased." This is too obvious to admit of argument, and was the fact that called forth my first letter on the subject. That the public will "never forget" the same fact is the chief reason of the present agitation over leprosy in the schools.

In the course of his said "anecdote" the Doctor speaks of a man who, having been "exposed to the contagion of leprosy" was found by him to have contracted that disease. No doubt the facts are true. If so, so much the worse for the Gibson-Fitch theory. What has happened in Madagascar is happening in Hawaii. My object in opening this question was to induce action such as would protect our community, especially the school children, from a like "exposure to the contagion of leprosy." C. W. A. Feb. 16th, 1884.
